

Jewellery on display.

Market Galore

Gone are the days of optionless and boring weekends out. Flea markets are the new next in-thing.

Creative handcraft.

The Amcorp Mall weekend flea markets are definitely worth a pit stop. This market that starts at 10am is at the front of the mall every Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

With back to back stalls selling a myriad of different things, you'll be spoilt for choice. Here you'll find a variety of shopping intricacies that will have you spending dollar after dollar.

There's something for everyone at this flea market. The ladies will take to the little accessory counters offering lovely earrings, necklaces and brooches. One booth even offers semi-precious stones that can be mixed, designed and custom-made for you on the spot. Clothing and shoes for women and children are also up for grabs here offering updated fashionable collections that will make you want to get all dolled up.

Another major attraction at this particular market is the food. Home-made cookies like jam tarts and scones are deliciously served up as are traditional cakes and other local delicacies that will be sure to get you salivating. For the children, you'll find toys, stickers, games, clothing and a lot of other fun things to bring home with you.

Music CDs and LPs for sale.

Intricate jewellery hand made here.

If your household could do with a little interior décor, then ceramic and porcelain artwork can be found here. There are designs specifically made for the bedroom, the kitchen and even the bathrooms.

At the Amcorp flea market you'll even find insurance and banking consultants parking at the booths here to offer you some tips on the latest offerings in the market. If you're one to be kept updated with financial business, then you'll find the convenience impeccable.

What's best about flea markets like this one is that it's fun for all. Bring the family, lug the kids and grandparents along or just head there with a bunch of friends. Nothing can beat trawling around the stalls at a market like this.

Homemade cookies.

Semi-precious stones.

Antique goods.

For further information please contact:
Amcorp Mall, No.18 Jalan Persiaran Barat
 46050 Petaling Jaya, Selangor Darul Ehsan, Malaysia.
 Tel: +603 7966 2300 Fax: +603 7966 2525
 Visit us at: www.amcorp.com.my