

The Catalyst of Knowledge Tradition

From its humble beginnings, Selangor International Islamic University College (SIIUC) has now emerged as one of the most dynamic Islamic private universities.

Steeped in traditions

Selangor International Islamic University College (SIIUC) was established in 1995 as a private college and wholly-owned subsidiary of Selangor Islamic Religious Council aimed at providing educational opportunities that emphasize on the integration of knowledge.

From its humble beginnings, SIIUC has now emerged as one of the most dynamic Islamic private universities and is fast accelerating towards its mission to become one of the most renowned centres of academic excellence, not only in Malaysia but also recognized internationally.

Inspired by its motto 'The Catalyst of Knowledge Tradition', SIIUC is committed towards providing the best and affordable education in line with the government aspiration of human capital development.

SIIUC offers globally recognized academic programmes through its unique teaching and learning model that enriches and enhances students' skills, values and potential.

Philosophy

To integrate knowledge, piety and devotion to become the basis of producing pious and well-rounded individuals with the ability to contribute to their own well-being as well as to the society and the nation.

An emphasis on the integration of knowledge

Development

Prior to its permanent campus, SIUC began its early operation at its temporary building of Tengku Ampuan Jemaah Secondary Religious School (SAMTAJ) in Shah Alam, Selangor. In the year 2000, KUIS moved to this new campus built on a 104 acre site strategically located at Bandar Seri Putra, Bangi, Selangor, Malaysia, 25 km south of Kuala Lumpur and 20 km north from the KL International Airport at Sepang.

The campus was officially opened by Sultan Sharafudin Idris Shah Ibni

Almarhum Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Shah Alhaj, the Sultan of Selangor Darul Ehsan on the 25th of May 2002. That moment declared the aspirations and commitment of SIUC to become a world-class institution and the leader in Islamic private education in Malaysia.

Since its inception, SIUC has witnessed an exponential growth of student's population from 60 students in 1995 to an enrolment of more than 4,500 students thus far including 200 international students from ASEAN and African countries as well as China. To date, SIUC has produced 2,800 graduates who have been serving the society.

SIUC currently offers 9 bachelors degree programmes and 20 diploma programmes ranging from Business studies, Accountancy, Islamic Banking, Human Resources Management, Information and Technology, Multimedia, Networking, Communications, Nursing, Islamic studies and Languages.
